"Racers Theoretical Performance"

This Index was developed by Rick Ruth and reflects study of results from well over 500 nationwide Solo events. UPDATED for 2020 v2! It's that time of year again. Rick Ruth has updated the 2020 PAX Index, aka Racer's Theoretical Performance index, for autocross. PAX is the SCCA's system for comparing the performance of cars from different classes against each other.

12/4/2019 update. As a result of the new 2020 CAM rules the PAX factors for CAM-C and CAM-T have been updated. Clearly Rick Ruth believes that the 4th gen Camaro and SN 95 Mustang have similar potential to the modern muscle cars. There is now virtually no difference in the PAX between the two classes. CAM-T just got .24 seconds harder (on a 60 second course). Also, FS, STH and SS have been changed.
